The Cassida Tiger delivers commercial-grade performance and features in a sleek, ultra-compact design. Steel components are precision-engineered for accurate and reliable operation and a ground breaking one-piece steel chassis means years of dependable service. Fast and powerful, the Cassida Tiger is as impressive as its namesake.

The Cassida Tiger series rival many commercial grade currency counters in performance and durability. From the first note to the last, the Tigers deliver fast, accurate and reliable currency counting.

A unique mechanism features a one-piece steel chassis, making it considerably more durable than other machines in its class. Steel roller shafts provide extra robustness to the mechanism.
